RELATIONSHIPS AND MENTAL HEALTH

The asynchrony and sensitivities prevalent in many gifted individuals can create challenges in the areas of relationships and mental health. As we encounter various struggles, many supports are available through the school setting and other community resources. Come and share your experiences and glean great advice from a variety of perspectives.

Come and interact with a panel of Jeffco professionals who will answer questions and share their experiences through the lens of counselors, social workers, parents, and student services staff.

NOTE:

- * Parents and Staff do not need to RSVP
- * Babysitting is not provided; although we encourage age—appropriate attendance
- * Information will be posted after the seminar on Jeffco GT website
